WUCHA

A close-up photograph of a cake. The cake is covered in a thick, vibrant blue frosting that has been drizzled over a golden-brown base. The frosting is applied in a decorative, somewhat chaotic pattern, creating a textured surface. In the center of the cake, there is a small, rectangular piece of purple paper with a torn, deckle edge. The paper has the German phrase "FÜR IMMER BLAU" written on it in white, uppercase letters. A thin, silver metal object, possibly a needle or a small knife, is visible in the lower-left corner, pointing towards the center of the cake. The background is dark and out of focus, emphasizing the cake and the tag.

The background is filled with people in a well-lit, modern space, some holding drinks and talking. The text 'Schlachthaus.' is overlaid in a large, white, sans-serif font, with 'fresh & fine art' in a smaller font below it.
